

The max value for the compliance matrix corresponds to the the compliance of the last Spring/mass. This makes sense that it should be the most compliant because it can stretch a little bit per spring before it.

The larger N is, the larger C_{max} will be.